MEMORIAL

MERCHANTS AND DEALERS IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK,

Upon the subject of the present deranged state of the money market, internal exchanges, and all the commercial transactions of the country.

FEBRUARY 3, 1834.

Referred to the Committee of Ways and Means.

To the honorable the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled :

The memorial of the subscribers, merchants and dealers, in the city of New York,

RESPECTFULLY SHOWETH :

That your memorialists approach your honorable bodies with feelings of deep concern, on account of the sudden, unexpected, and great change which has lately taken place in the money market, the inland exchanges, and all the commercial transactions of the country, and their apprehension of such further derangement, as to cause, unless prevented by the interference of Congress, still greater embarrassments and distress.

That the present state of things is such as your memorialists assert, and that it is accompanied by a general want of confidence, and fearful apprehension of greater impending evils, are undeniable facts, and may, if necessary, be substantiated by the extravagant premium required for obtaining money on the best security ; by the fall in every species of public stocks, without excepting the most solid State banks and State loans ; and by the effect already produced on the cash sales of real estate ; and, above all, by the interruption of the ordinary remittances, and the almost entire cessation of every branch of business connected with the inland exchanges, and the purchase and exportation of the produce of the country.

That inasmuch as this fatal alteration in our situation and prospects has suddenly succeeded a state of security and prosperity, extending to all the interests and enterprises of the people, and in the absence of all cause in our external concerns for the existing and threatening difficulties, your memorialists, cannot but ascribe those difficulties principally, if not exclusively, to the unfortunate change which has taken place in the relations between the Government and the Bank of the United States, and to the probably unforeseen consequences which have flown therefrom. And that whilst they trust in the wisdom of Congress for applying a proper and immediate remedy, they have not been able to perceive how currency, exchanges, and commercial transactions, can, during the continuance of the charter of the Bank, be restored to a sound and stable state, so long as that institution and the State banks shall continue to be kept in a state of alarm and reciprocal mistrust, which compels all to curtail their operations and facilities in the transmission of funds, indispensable to the prosperity of the agricultural and commercial interests of the country.

That your memorialists are of opinion that, from the nature of things, tested by past and present experience, a sound, secure, and stable paper currency cannot be sustained without the agency of a Bank of the United States; and they, therefore, also respectfully pray, with a view to that all-important object, as well as for the other purposes already mentioned, that either the charter of the present Bank be renewed, or another be substituted, to take effect upon the expiration of the present charter, but in either case with such modifications, and under such restrictions, as experience may suggest.

And, as in duty bound, your memorialists will ever pray.
